October 2025 — November 2025

Newsletter of The Department of Connecticut Marine Corps League

Department of Connecticut Commandant's Corner

Leaves are falling, autumn is calling. Happy fall, y'all.

The onset of fall means the League is entering its busy season, for all veterans, not just Marines.

We should have participated in ceremonies honoring the victims of the terrorist attacks of 11 September 2001. That was a tragic and momentous day in our history, followed every year by somber gatherings nationwide. Never forget!

We do not have a lot going on in October but for many of us, it signals the beginning of Toys for Tots campaigns. TFT is probably the effort that brings us the most exposure as a Department. If your Detachment does not participate in a TFT drive, Commandants should provide a list of potential collection sites and share it with the closest participating Detachment so they may expand their territory.

On the other hand, Detachments should never expand into another's area without approval from the other Detachment's Commandant. This is in keeping with the TFT guidelines.

And just wait for November! It is probably our busiest month with Veterans

Day and the Marine Corps Birthday events.

Some Detachments will have birthday balls, dinners, and other such events. Show your Marine pride and attend as many celebrations as you can.

The Department of Connecticut is sponsoring a cake cutting ceremony in the rotunda of the state capitol building at 1300 on 10 November 2025. All League members, active-duty Marines, and their families are invited.

We have a small committee working out the details, which will be shared soon. Pencil this event on your calendars.

If any member would like to assist the committee, please contact Peter DePaola or me. We will have a Zoom meeting on Friday, 26 September at 1900.

Commandants, please watch your emails for important information on end-of-year reports. Please ensure that your ROIs, 990s, and other compliance reports are completed.

Semper Fidelis.

The Navy officer who became a legend among the 6th Marines

Born in St. Clair, Pennsylva-first foreign assignment with the Ma-Expeditionary Force suppressing there where he was made medical officer for the 13th Marine Company. By April 1917, Boone was serving aboard the battleship USS Wyoming (BB-32) when the United States declared war on Germany and in June of that year he was temporarily promoted to full lieutenant. Boone faced his first challenge on June 9, when the 6th Marines' regimental aid station was demolished by enemy shells and was bombarded again on the 10th, killing 10 Marines and wounding many more. On June 25, he followed a battalion pressing against machine gun positions, establishing advance dressing stations under continuous shell fire. For his performance throughout the intense fighting at Belleau Wood, Boone was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross.

The final turning point of World War I on the Western Front began on July 14 as the German army tried to force its way across the Marne River and on to Paris — only to be stopped there by the French and American army. On July 19, Surg. Boone left the shelter of his field station and into an open field southeast of Vierzy, near a cemetery on the road south. Under a heavy barrage of large caliber shells, Boone calmly but swiftly traversed the scant cover to recover wounded Marines, apply tourniquets and dress wounds. Casualties were so heavy that he used up his dressings and supplies, so he commandeered a motorcycle and drove to the rear through a blitz of explosives and gas, then, as his citation states, "returned quickly with a sidecar load." Such were the day's casualties that his medical supplies were again used up, so "A second trip under the same conditions and for the same purpose, was made by Surg. Boone later that day." Somehow he survived and dozens of front-line witnesses testified to the exploits of the naval officer who became a legend among the 6th Marines.

Promoted to lieutenant commander in September, Boone made it through the war to the armistice on Nov. 11, 1918. His life-saving actions on July 25 were recognized by the Navy, which later saw Boone awarded the Medal of Honor. That, along with the DSC, six Silver Stars, Bronze Star with "V," two Purple Hearts, French Officier de la Légion d'Honneur and Croix de Guerre with two bronze stars, added up to his ultimate status as the most decorated medical officer in the U.S. Armed Services. Boone continued his naval career through World War II and Korea, one of the few Americans to have served in four conflicts. He represented the American medical forces on the deck of battleship Missouri when the Japanese surrendered on Sept. 2, 1945. He also served in the White House physician to Presidents Warren G. Harding, Calvin Coolidge, Herbert Hoover and, briefly, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Editor's note: This story's headline has been corrected to reflect that Joel Boone was a medical officer

BIG DOGS IN TOWN

On Sunday September 7th the Dogs of The Connecticut Pack were honored to host The Honorable Senior Vice Chief Devil Dog, Joe DeAngelo Jr. and the Honorable Aide De Camp, Barbara DeAngelo. I have been a Dog since 2017 and we have never had a visit from anyone from the kennel besides our New England Vice Chief Devil Dogs, Pat McMahon, and Cherie Monnell. They came to present an award to PCDD Doug Fisk for his continued contributions to the Dogs, and to swear in Vice Chief Devil Dog Pat McMahon.

50 YEAR A MARINE

This year marks 50 years "Marine." In 1975, there were rines during that era and very It was by accident that I even en in the Marine Corps. I had and WAVES and never gave it our country; until the day I Marines and within six weeks I footprints at Parris Island!

Today, there are about MOS's are open to those who about 6.5% of the Marine Corps challenging, both physically and much easier than the boot different PFT then, and we were range. We were trained to be even issued a make-up kit and since I earned the title, only about 3,000 women Ma-limited MOS's to choose from. learned that there were wom-basically only heard of WACS a second thought of serving heard that there were women was standing on those yellow 14,000 women serving and all qualify. Women make up population. Boot camp was mentally in 1975, but it was camp of today. We had a very never introduced to the rifle "Lady Leathernecks" and were provided classes on etiquette.

But then we entered the 1980's where things started to rapidly change. Although I loved being a Marine, I only served four years active duty and then got out to start a new season of my life as a wife, and eventually a mom. Women were discharged from active duty if they were pregnant and I witnessed some of my friends end their service because of it. That started to shift in the late 1970's so by 1980, women were allowed to stay in when pregnant. There still are a lot of complications in today's force with custody of children when the mother deploys, or even goes to extended training, but more women are making careers as Marines than ever before. Within six months of leaving active duty, I joined the Marine Corps Reserves and enjoyed being affiliated again. My MOS was in Administration, so I always had a billet wherever I went. Everything started to change for women Marines around this time. We were now permitted to wear Cammies and boots, something I loved very much! And we finally got to go to the rifle range and fam-fire. I loved that too! Our PFT changed for the third time since I joined to be more aligned with the male PFT. I was fine with that too! And more opportunities were opened for women with the MOS's, and I was proud of that.

During my 24-year career, I served in two active-duty units, and seven reserve units from west coast to east coast, mostly infantry units, long before women were allowed to be in an infantry unit. I deployed with 25 th Marine Regiment for Desert Storm as their Regimental S-1 Chief and was the only woman in the regimental staff. Within a year after returning from that deployment I was promoted to 1 st Sergeant. Because of my gender, the Marine Corps would not allow me to stay with the infantry regiment, so they gave me orders to logistics group where women were allowed to serve in leadership billets. Several years later, I was invited by HQMC to return to 25 th Marine Regiment to be their Headquarters Company First Sergeant and make history for women in leadership billets. I declined that offer and accepted orders to another logistics company in New Jersey. I was the company 1 st Sergeant of two logistics units before being promoted to Sergeant Major and assigned to 6 th Motor Transport Battalion, which some of the old- timers had issues with that.

CONNECTICUT

As I reflect on my 50 years as a Marine, I feel quite blessed. I joined the Marine Corps knowing very little about the Marines, yet eager to be one. I knew little about the history of the Marine Corps outside of what we were taught in boot camp. The 200 th birthday celebration in 1975 was my first experience of sharing such pride with fellow Marines and I began to truly feel part of this family. I graduated boot camp and MOS school and was acclimating to my first duty assignment in 1975 and the buzz was contagious and energizing about the Corps' 200 th birthday celebration. I was bursting with pride to be part of this great organization, and the enthusiasm propelled me to lean into this new identity that was now mine. I earned the title Marine, and now I have a responsibility to uphold all its traditions and customs like all those who came before me.

During my 24-year career, the PFT became the easiest thing the Marine Corps asked of me. I was a trailblazer of sorts for all the changes that were occurring to integrate women into combat MOS's. To meet those MOS minimum standards, women had to adapt and overcome all the myriads of changes with the PFT, weapons training, Crucible, billeting, uniforms, etc. Fifty years later, I stand prouder knowing I am part of an elite organization who has embraced the changes for women Marines and welcomed us as equal. As women, not Lady Leathernecks, we've been challenged to meet physical and mental requirements that have stretched us beyond what most women could ever imagine with a focus on strength and endurance. I love the line, "All women were created equal, then some became Marines."

Happy 250 th Birthday Marines!

THE “CT VETERANS DAY RACE”

HONORS AND SALUTES ALL WHO SERVED

The mission of the CT Veterans Day Race is to support the Connecticut veteran community, especially those most in need. On November 8th, they will be celebrating their 10th anniversary of honoring and supporting CT veterans. Veterans Day is a great time for all Americans to salute our military veterans and say, “thank you.” MCL member, Peter DePaola, is the Race Director and organizer for the event. He, and his wife Jamie, founded this event in 2016 to not just honor our veterans, but to raise funds and awareness for the VSOs who directly help the underserved veteran community.

Since they began in 2016, the CT Veterans Day Race has donated over $100,000 to 18 different Veteran Service Organizations in CT. Even with the recent economic challenges we’ve experienced, one thing that remains true and strong is the human spirit and the willingness to give, to help, and to support others. 100% of the race proceeds are donated to CT Veteran Service Organizations (VSO) who serve the needy and homeless veteran community.

The patriotic opening ceremony begins at 9:45 a.m. and features the UConn ROTC Color Guard and Rubyfruit A Cappella choir from UConn singing the National Anthem. The race begins promptly at 10 a.m. and offers both live and virtual options in the 4-mile course, 3-mile walk, or the 3-mile ruck sack. Donations of non-perishable food items will be collected for the “Vittles for Veterans” Food Pantry at Veterans Base Camp, and daily essential items will also be collected for the homeless veteran population for “Backpacks for Life” program.

Check out the event’s website at www.ctveteransdayrace.com to learn more. Please join the festivities of the day by being a sponsor, or by participating either in the run, walk or ruck or as a patriotic spectator or along the route cheering on the runners. There’s something for everyone to celebrate and support veterans on Veterans Day. Please share the good news!

In this 250th Anniversary of so many Branches of the Military, please participate in this event in any way that your circumstances will allow. If not physically then monetarily.

Three generations of my immediate family have served in the Marine Corp from the Korean

WORTHY PACK LEADERS MESSAGE

As we discussed last Growl we need new dogs. Back in August I sent out an e-mail asking you to bring in names of candidates but I didn't get any, so lets try and get some names for our next GROWL. Also, lets try and boost some attendance as well. The next GROWL is November 2 at Rocky Hill, and it would be nice to make some progress growing our numbers. Call someone up. See if they need a ride and come together.

Last Growl we had a visit from the Honorable Sr. Vice Chief Devil Dog and the Honorable Aide De Campe, and this was a first since I have been a dog. I have seen visits to MA but never to us here in CT. If you don't get to National Conventions and attend The Supreme Growl, this was a great opportunity to meet and get to know your National officers, and for them to meet and get to know you and the things the dogs in Connecticut are capable of. The purpose of their visit was to present an award to PCDD, PDD Doug Fisk in recognition of the work he does for the dogs; and he does do a lot to promote the dogs and the Connecticut Pack. When we travel to Growls in other packs or Quad State, or National Connecticut is one of the loudest and most engaged dogs in attendance. That motivation and enthusiasm comes from PCDD Fisk. The other reason they came was to swear in our very own National Vice Chief Devil Dog, PDD Pat McMahon. Dogs holding this position were not previously sworn in; but starting this year they were sworn the same as the elected officer of the kennel. Since Pat had to leave National early they made the trip to fulfill this requirement.

We did not have time at the last Growl because of the company but PCDD Fisk asked that we bring in some games to the Growl, something the would utterly embarrass the dogs attending. We have had a few in the past with shooting at targets, knocking over plastic cups with marshmallows. I think the best idea would be to make up teams and the teams should be created by Pounds and we could compete for bragging rights

Thank you for all you do,

Regardless of the situation, the Marine Corps has an answer for almost everything.

A Marines Prayer

Almighty Father, whose command is over all and whose love never fails, make me aware of Thy presence and obedient to Thy will. Keep me true to my best self, guarding me against dishonesty in purpose and deed and helping me to live so that I can face my fellow Marines, my loved ones, and Thee without shame or fear. Protect my family.

Give me the will to do the work of a Marine and to accept my share of responsibilities with vigor and enthusiasm. Grant me the courage to be proficient in my daily performance. Keep me loyal and faithful to my superiors and to the duties my Country and the Marine Corps have entrusted to me. Help me to wear my uniform with dignity, and let it remind me daily of the traditions which I must uphold.

If I am inclined to doubt, steady my faith; if I am tempted, make me strong to resist; if I should miss the mark, give me courage to try again.

Guide me with the light of truth and grant me wisdom by which I may understand the answer to my prayer.

Amen
